Start the torso at the hair.

The mouth's upper and bottom are glued together
by the tab with the number 33.
This is to be done after piece
33 is glued to 32.

Both the parts with the tabs numbered 35 are double sides, they are glued on the back
of that piece.

Glue the horn to the face BEFORE gluing it to the pre-built set.

SPACER FOR
THE BASE

The fur is not hard, make sure to follow the pdo and you'll be fine.

Build the base before gluing
the claws to the standing leg.
Put them on the base, apply glue to the tabs and put the built part of the legs on the top. Put the spacer inside before closing.

Glue these spikes AFTER the arms are glued.

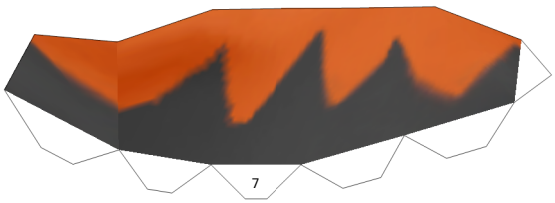
Glue the spikes when the numbers get to them. This goes for the ones on the body and on the legs.

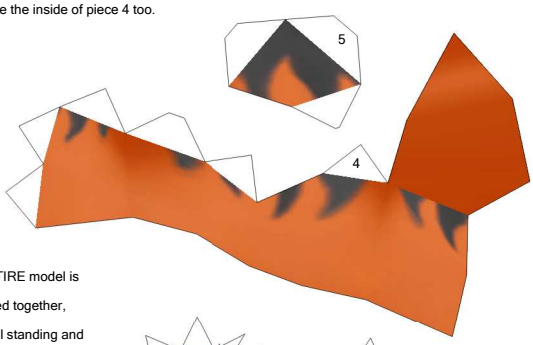
Build the arms from the claws up. Glue the fire to them when the numbers get to them. You can either glue the nails now or when the arms are built.

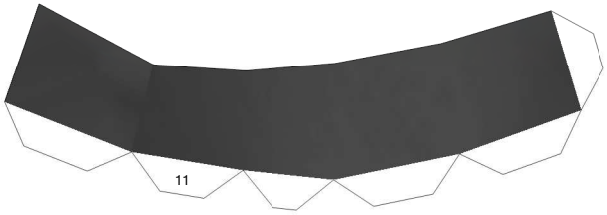
Glue the inside of the leg fur, than the outside and, only now, cut the details. Only glue the claws AFTER the details are cut.

Glue the flames only AFTER the torso and the legs are glued together but BEFORE puting the weight.

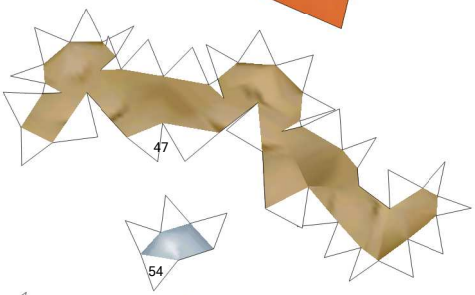
Reinforce the inside of piece 4 too.

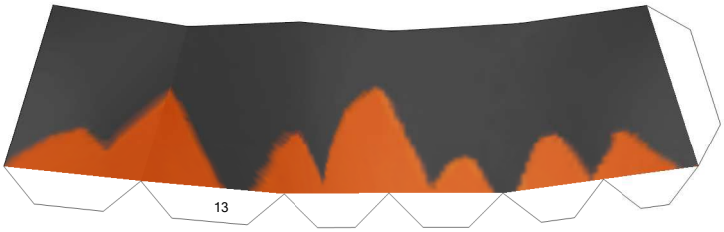


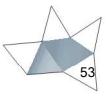


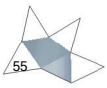


After the ENTIRE model is built and glued together, put the model standing and put weight inside until it stands. The weight will go inside the standing leg. After it stands, close the last leg and glue the claws to it.

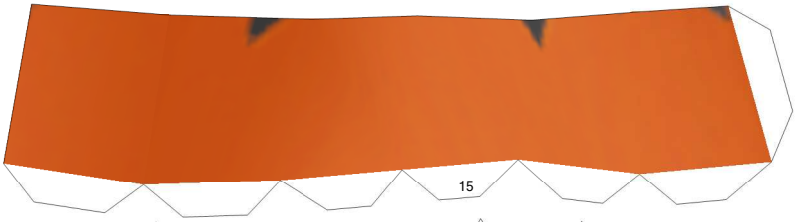


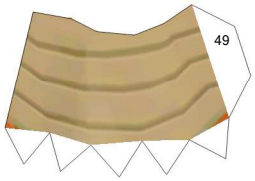


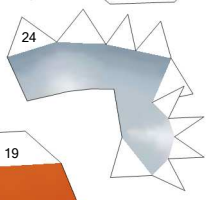


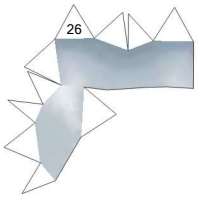


The claws MUST be built BEFORE they are glued to the palm. Start joining both together by the middle one.









It's VERY IMPORTANT to reinforce the inside of the standing leg with scrap paper glued on the inside, otherwise it can colapse with time. Do it while building the legs.
