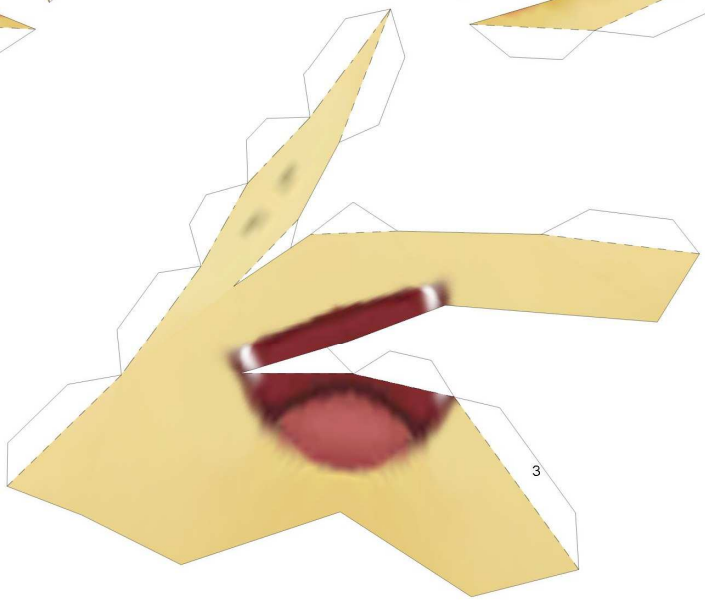
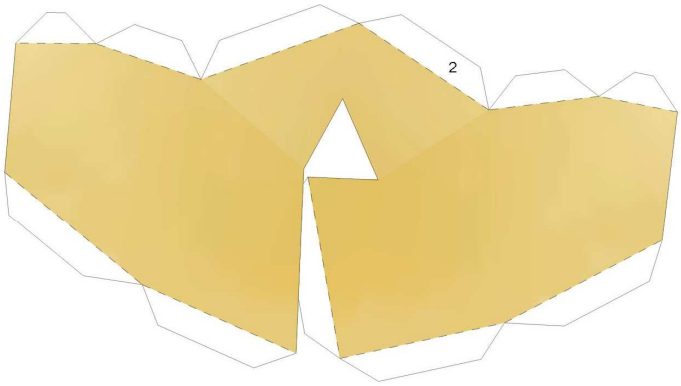
Close at the top of the head.

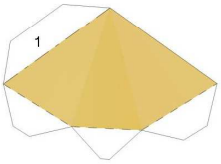
Build the ears from the inside out



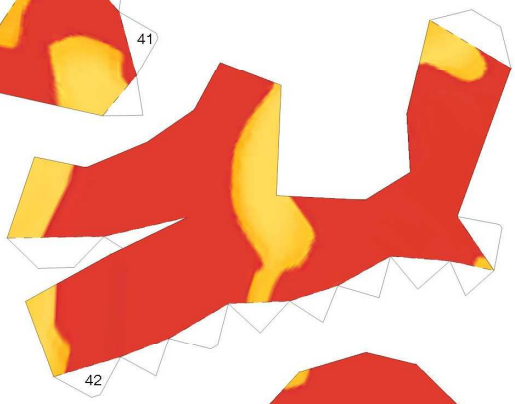
Make sure to put the head in place before gluing, to see if it will stand. For that, keep the last tabs of the last piece of the body unglued and put weight inside until it stands. Glue the head afterwards.

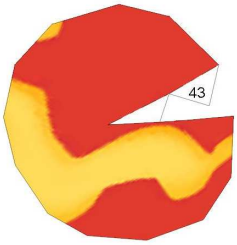


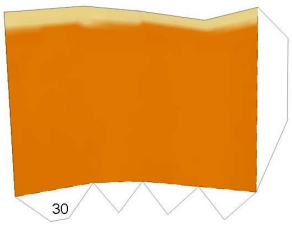
Start the head at the bottom, where it will connect with the body.



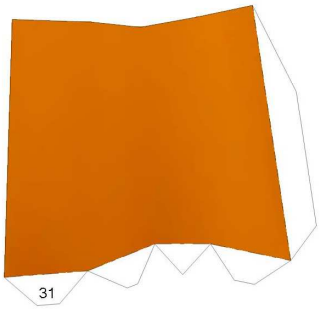
The flames are the hardest part. Refer to the pdo and fold the lines. Close at the back and glue to the body while you can apply pressure.

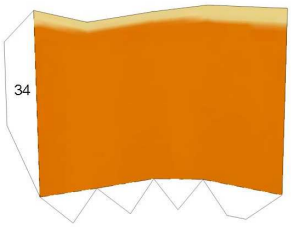


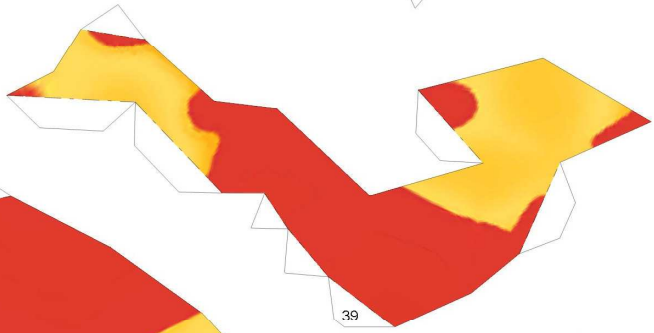


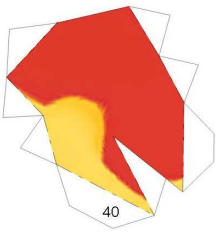


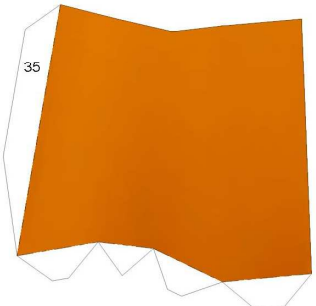
The fingers can be tricky, be careful while you cut the pieces, they'll break easily. Start the fingers at the top.





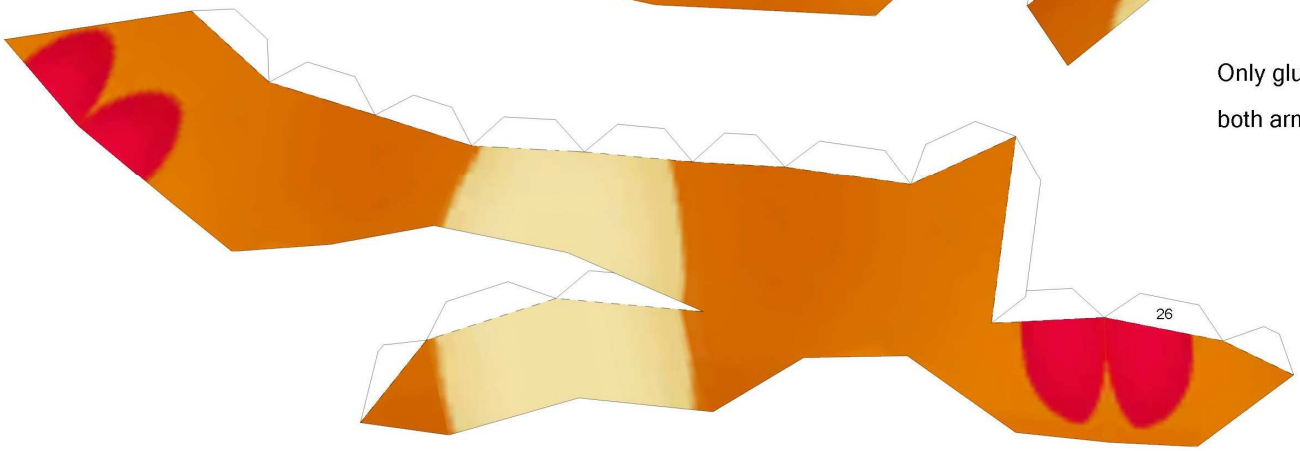


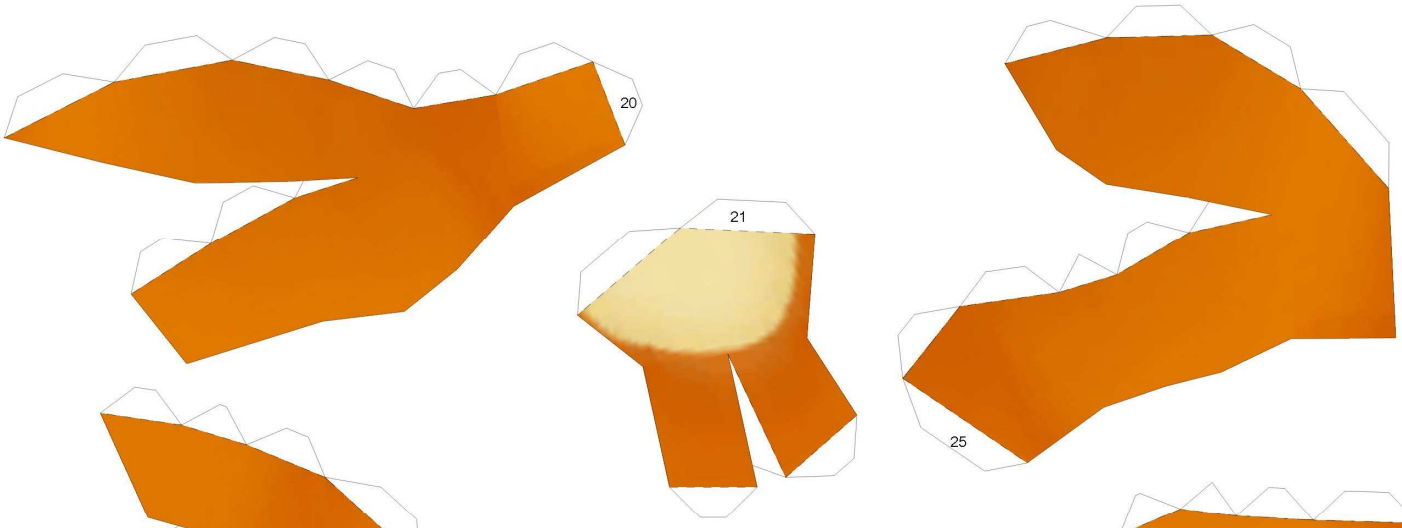


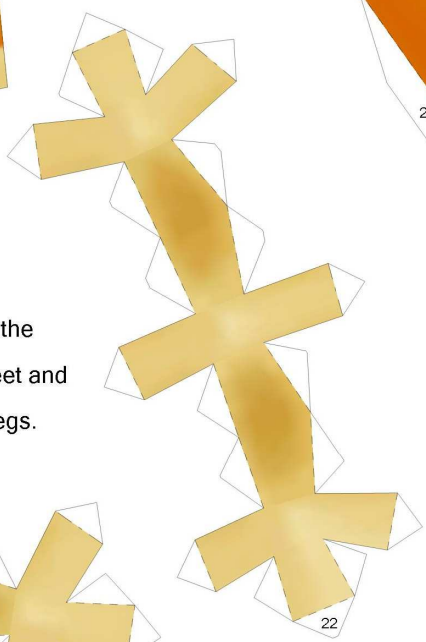


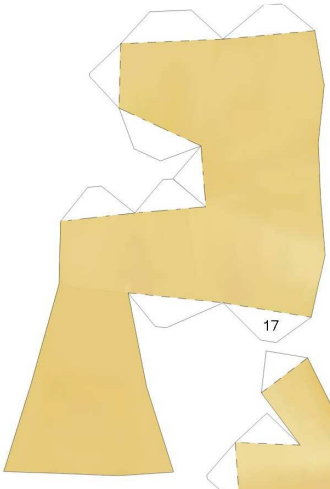
Close the body at the neck.

Only glue piece 36 after both arms are in place.

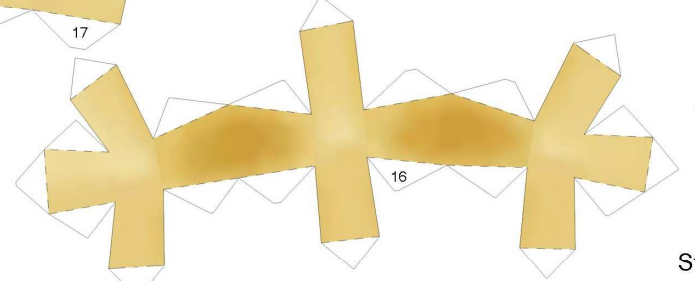








Build the toes, glue them to the sides, glue the sole of the feet and after that proceed with the legs.



Start the body at the feet.
