King Bob-omb

Papercraft by Gipi

"Big Bob-omb, sometimes called King Bob-omb, because of his crown, is the king of the Bob-ombs. He's the first boss who is fought in Super Mario 64 and Super Mario 64 DS. Guarding the Power Star, which Bowser entrusted him with, he will not give it up without a fight."

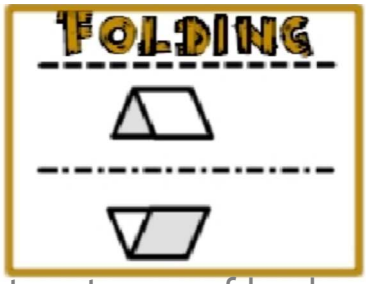
This isn't an official model by Nintendo but by Gipi. King/Big Bob-omb and Super Mario 64 are The Nintendo Company property.

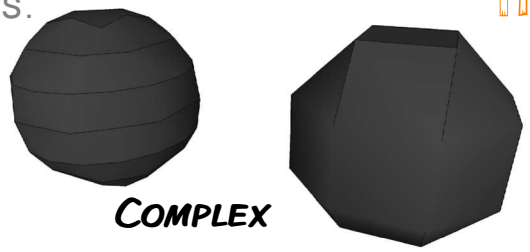
Instructions

to make building easier and more fun!



1. First, build the body. You can choose between two types of body: the complex and the easy one. I really recommend the easy one for beginners.

Tips: Only fold the tab so they have a 'smoother' effect.



Complex Easy

2. Next, cut, fold and glue the arms, the hands, the legs and the feet. Choose betwen easy arms or normal ones. Then, glue them to the body and the hands.

Tips: Same thing as the first tip
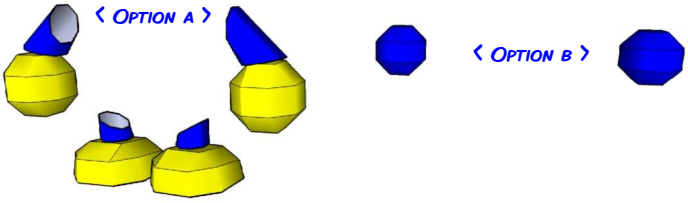
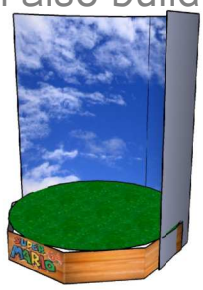
If you chose the spherical arms, you can glue them to the body & the hands with a glue gun, but take care to not get a burn! I've already got many, and I'll tell you hat it's not really fun ;) or ask a parent to do it.



3. Now, simply add the crown, the mustache and the eyes to his face. You'll see that they're really easy to build. King Bob-omb is done! Thanks to build it!

4. (Optional) You can also build the base to make your model look cooler!



Tips: Round the base with the edge of a table.
