CORPORATE ALLIANCE TANK DROID ("SNAIL TANK")
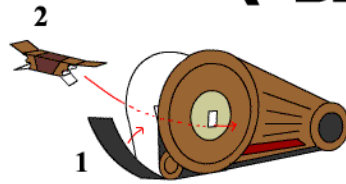

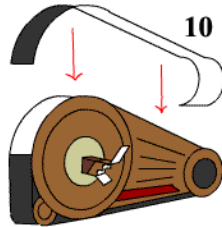

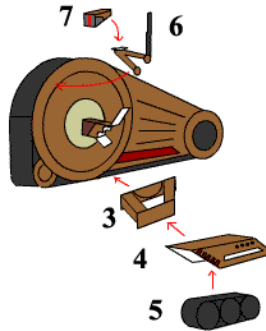

Slide #2 through #1.
Do NOT glue the ends closed on #2

Use #10 to cover the body. You may want to crease #10 where the body countours change. If #10 is too long, you can tuck the excess under the rear wheel.
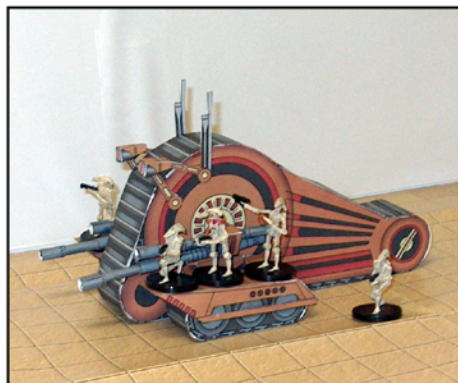

This step is pretty straight-forward. Optionally, you may want to cut the grey wheels out of #4. This will make the model look better.

Repeat these steps on the other side of the model.

This is the hardest part. Roll #8 & 9 as tightly as you can. Then glue them into the slots on #2 (#8 & 9 both have dark bands to indicate where they need to be glued). Now you can finally glue the end flaps on #2.

That's it- you're done.
