Preliminary - Tools to Consider

This kid's life is so messed up...

Construct part 1

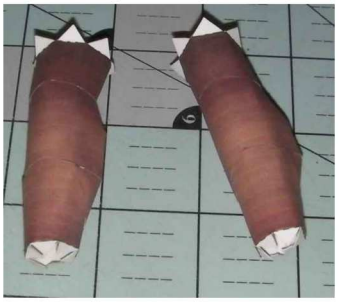

Attach parts 2-3

Attach parts 4-5

Repeat for parts 6-10

Construct parts 11-15 and 16-20

Construct parts 21-23 and 24-26

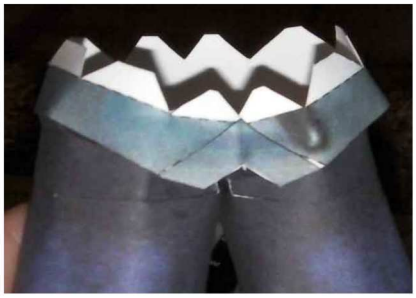

Attach the lower legs to the upper legs

Attach parts 27-29

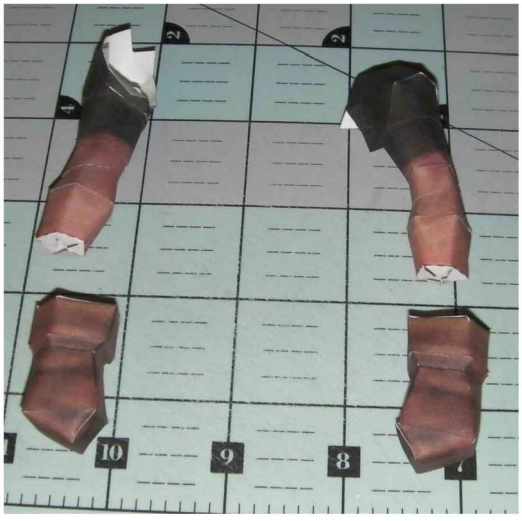

Attach part 30, glue the backs of the "o" labeled tabs of parts 29 and 30 together, then attach part 31 over them to create a double-sided section

Attach parts 32-40

Construct parts 42-43, 44-50, 51-52, and 53-59

Attach the arms to the body

Attach parts 60-64

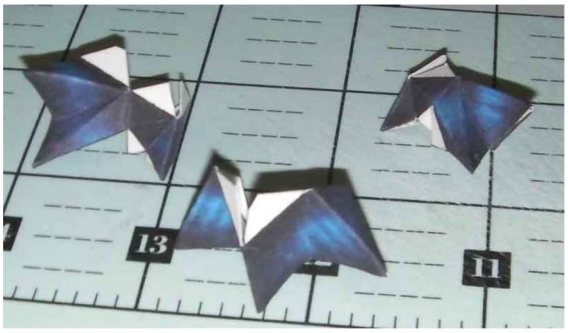

Now's as good a time as any to attach the feet, if you haven't done so already

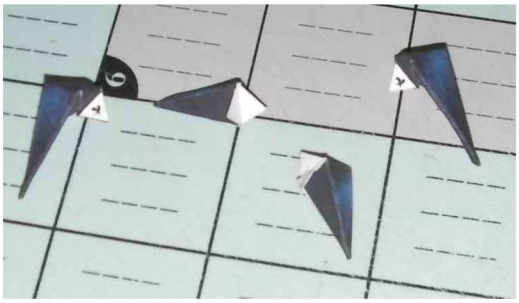

Construct parts 65-70

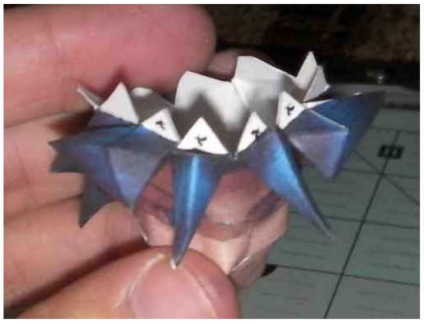

Attach parts 71-73 to the face

Construct parts 71, 72, and 73

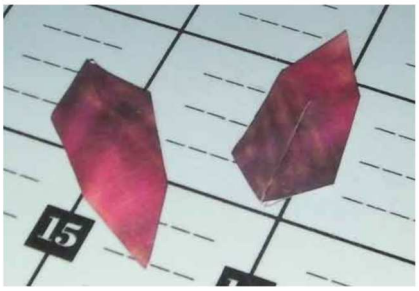

Construct parts 74-77, leaving the "x" marked tabs unglued

Orient parts 74-77 appropriately and glue the lower "x" tab to the top of part 70, leaving the upper "x" free

Attach part 78

Construct parts 79 and 80

Attach to the back of the head (you may want to cut a slit or pry up the back of part 78)

Attach the head to the body

Now, as for the adventure ahead, you're going to want to steer clear of:

Panther demons
The ocean
Your dad
Your dad's friend
Any and all time-traveling clone-babies
The military
The ghost-hunting military
Ghosts
Pirates
Mermaids
Dragons
Dead guys
Guys who should be dead but aren't
Guys with amnesia
Magic swords
Evil magic swords
Robots
Aliens
The sisters of fate
Triggers of any kind (particularly chrono ones)
Evil robot panther demons who have merged with your father and assumed your body in order to gain access to their own control panel which also has something to do with time-traveling scientists from pre-history who came in contact with a massive alien that is currently sleeping at the center of the Earth or something and set up a secret organization to control the lives of people in an artifically created archipellago because that has something to do with some dragons who are actually dinosaurs from another dimension come to wreak revenge on the over-evolved apes who conquered them 65 million years ago

Oh and take a jacket, it's chilly out
